Faith & Vocation Fellowship Application Information

Faith & Vocation Fellowships at Lutheran Campus Ministry are designed to provide opportunities for students to:

- Grow in relationship with God through knowledge and faith practices
- Develop a close community of faith in which to reflect on God’s presence in daily life
- Serve others through partner ministries, exploring the diverse ways Christians serve Christ

Program Details

The Faith & Vocation Fellowship program is a year-long commitment of approximately 10 hours per week during the academic year, excluding finals (15 weeks per semester). Each fellow will receive a stipend of $400 per month September - May (9 months).

The program consists of two parts: the cohort group meeting and service in a partner ministry site.

Cohort group meetings will be held two Sundays per month from 2pm to 5pm during the academic term. These meetings will include three parts:

- A short time for collective spiritual practices based on ancient and contemporary forms of prayer such as contemplative prayer, mindfulness meditation, lectio divina (meditation on scripture), intercessory prayer, the examen, etc.
- Time for group conversation and reflection on issues and topics inspired by experiences in ministry sites and daily life.
- An introduction to several topics including: Biblical Interpretation, Lutheran Theology and Practice, and Faith in Daily Life.
